Background - Dementia

- Symptoms of dementia include memory loss and impaired judgment, thinking or reasoning and changes in personality and behaviour.
- Persons with dementia, like all individuals, respond to their environment but may not be able to control their response, and as a result, may respond in a way that is socially inappropriate or even criminally offensive.
- These behaviors can lead to incidents that are processed through the criminal justice system.

Background – Crimes and Seniors

- Victims of crime: Scams, thefts, neglect and abuse.
- Perpetrators of crime: Theft, violence and abusers.
- Family violence: At a rate of 61 victims of family violence per 100,000 population, seniors aged 65 and older had the lowest rates of family-violence (Statistics Canada, 2011).
- Most often, grown children were responsible for family violence against seniors, followed by spouses.

Purpose - Safe Pathways

- As the prevalence of dementia grows with the aging population, we might expect to see an increase in incidents involving dementia.
