SEXUAL VIOLENCE SUPPORT SERVICES

Sexual Assault Services

Victim Services (Victim Support and Court Preparation)

HEALTH CONCERNS

In addition to your emotional and mental health, you may consider accessing resources for the following: sexually transmitted infection, possibility of pregnancy, family violence and substance use. Consider accessing medical care as soon as possible. Alberta Health Link- 811* or myhealth.alberta.ca/

Addictions Helpline	1-866-332-2322*
Mental Health Helpline	1-877-303-2642*

SHELTERS

DISTRESS AND CRISIS LINE

Edmonton Distress Line	780-342-7777*
Calgary Distress Line	403-266-4357*
	1-800-232-7288*

* 24-Hour services

You are not alone. Police are here to help you. Their priorities are to keep you safe and investigate what has happened.

The police will also help you to contact Victim Services. Victim Services will give you information about the court process and connect you with support services.

Even if you do not want assistance now, you can always ask for help from the police or Victim Services later.

If you remember anything else about the incident, your investigator will want to know.

Being a victim of a sexual assault is never your fault.

Investigator

Contact Info

File No.